- Archeological Day Trip to the Salinas Province: On the Edge of the Pueblo World with Professor Kate Spielman

Kate Spielmann will lead a one-day guided trip to three of the prehispanic/early historic Pueblo villages in the Salinas Province of central New Mexico. The Salinas Province was a vibrant place of social transformation, interaction with Plains bison hunters, and the establishment of early Spanish missions. The trip will proceed through Chilili and Tajique, Spanish villages founded on the sites of former prehispanic pueblos, with our first stop at Quarai, the site of a spectacularly preserved Spanish mission. After talking about Pueblo responses to Spanish missionization and colonization we will proceed on to Gran Quivira where we will have an all-encompassing view of this eastern Pueblo world. There we will talk about the region's social transformation from Mogollon to Pueblo and about trade with Plains hunter-gatherers. We will return through Abo Pass, with a stop at Abo Pueblo if there is time and interest. Professor Kate Spielmann and her graduate students worked in the Salinas province for two decades employing both archaeological survey and excavation, as well as interviews with local homesteaders, to learn about Pueblo life in this province. Price: $100 per person. Buy at <https://conta.cc/3pehmds>

- Lebanese Cooking Lesson with Monika and Robert Ghattas

Learn to cook Fêti, a delicious and authentic Lebanese casserole, with Monika and Robert Ghattas, who led last year's AIA trip to Lebanon. Fêti is a layered dish consisting of eggplant, garbanzos, tahini, onions, pine nuts, and pomegranate seeds. It is served lukewarm and can be made either vegetarian or served with minced lamb. The Ghattases will discuss several ways to prepare it. This cooking lesson can be conducted on Zoom or in person, once it is again safe to do so. Cost: $100. Buy at: <https://conta.cc/36chxgp>

- Cross-country skiing with Marina Oborotova

In his youth, Marina's father was a cross country skiing champion. Marina has been cross country skiing "under duress" since before she remembers herself, and of course hated it! But the expected result is that she knows how to do it. Enjoy a cross country skiing class with Marina when the snow arrives. Price: $250. Buy at <https://conta.cc/3ey0Kbp>
